

The Missouri– Illinois AWI is holding its 2nd annual symposium on sustainable products to educate the construction industry about the various types of green woodworking products that exist in the market and to introduce them to the local suppliers who carry related items. The event will consist of two presentations. The first presenter, Richard Poindexter from Columbia Forest Products, will address the issue of “Decorative Plywood and Interior Air Quality.” The second presenter, LK Wilhelms of Smith & Fong, will discuss “Designing with Sustainable Bamboo.” Both presentations will focus on knowing the difference between a truly green product and green-washing. A CEU can be earned for each presentation attended and also for visiting the exhibitors’ booths at the event, allowing a total of three CEUs.

WHERE: 21 O’Fallon Street
St. Louis, MO 63102
William A. Kerr Foundation

WHEN: Thursday, May 14, 2009
3:30 - 7:00pm

EVENT SCHEDULE

- 3:30 - 4:00 Exhibitor displays, networking, & hors d’oeuvres
- 4:00 - 5:00 Presentation: Decorative Hardwood Plywood & Interior Air Quality
- 5:00 - 6:00 Exhibitor displays, networking, & hors d’oeuvres
- 6:00 - 7:00 Presentation: Designing with Sustainable Bamboo

RSVP

Please RSVP by Friday, May 8, 2009
by contacting Karen Duree at 314.524.0602 or kduree@amsonline.com

This event is FREE to the St. Louis construction industry.