Step 5: If your folder does not exist, the program will create one for you. Click “Yes” and then “Next.”

Step 6: Click “Next” to choose the default program shortcuts.

Step 7: Choose “Create a desktop icon,” then click “Next.”

Step 8: This is a summary screen. Click “Install.”

Step 9: The install is complete. Click “Finish,” and the FeedReader application will open. Follow the steps outlined in Configuring Your FeedReader.
Step 1: Once you have completed the installation, the FeedReader application window will open.

Step 2: Click on “New Feed” icon.

Step 3: This will open the New Feed Wizard. Type the full web address found on the RSS subscription page from which you subscribed. (The address below is an example only.) Click “Next” when finished.

Step 4: A default newsletter name will appear. Click “Finish.”

Step 5: Now you are ready to update your newsletter feed. Hold your mouse over the name of the newsletter and double click your left mouse button.

Step 6: Your reader will capture all current and past newsletter issues.
Step 7: To read an issue, hold your mouse over an issue and right click your mouse. A drop down window will appear. Hold your mouse over the “Open in new window” option and click your left mouse button once. This will open the issue in a new browser window.

Step 8: Your issue window will appear behind your FeedReader window. Simply click on the window and enjoy your issue.

Configuring Your FeedReader

Step 1: To configure your FeedReader, click on “Tools” and then “Properties.”

Step 2: You may change any “General” setting, however the defaults work well.
Step 3: Click on “Appearance” and change the refresh to “Every 2 Hours.” Then change “Visibility duration (sec)” to “2 Minutes.” Make sure the option “Use notification box fade in and out” is checked. This will ensure that you are notified whenever an issue is sent. (You may want to periodically check your FeedReader icon found in the system tray to ensure that you did not miss a notification.) Click “OK” when done.

Step 4: When a new issue is sent to your FeedReader, this message window will appear just above your system tray in the lower right hand corner of your screen.

Step 5: Double click the link and your FeedReader window will open. Right click the issue and choose “Open in New Window” to read the issue.
